Civil Rights
Passage Set
Next Week

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the Southern filibuster broken, Senate leaders predicted today the Senate will pass the civil rights bill by the end of the next week.

Still to be voted on is a mountain of some 100 amendments. But Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., the bill's floor manager, figures the Senate should be able to dispose of them at a 12 day clip.

It set to the task Wednesday, beating down two Southern amendments, and drawing the wrath of Dixie leader Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., who shouted the Senate was acting "in the spirit of a lynch mob!"

Such daily progress on the amendments would be a breathtaking change of pace after the 75 days of debate and filibuster which the senators voted Wednesday to choke off.

In so doing it made history. For the first time the Senate invoked cloture — the limitation on debate — in a civil rights battle. The vote was 71 to 29, four more than the necessary two-thirds majority. All 100 senators were on hand, including the ailing Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., who cast his vote for cloture from a wheelchair.

From then on, each senator is limited to one hour of speaking time on all questions in connection with the measure. Leaders said they were certain a substantial part of this 100 hours will not be used. A little more than two hours were consumed Wednesday after cloture was imposed.

Humphrey told a reporter he believed the bill now would be passed and sent back to the House in amended form by Friday of next week.

Arkansas
Senators
Lost Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas senators struck out against the civil rights bill here Wednesday.

Sens. John L. McClellan and J. William Fulbright voted with the closing side on a motion to limit debate on the bill. The motion passed 71-29.

They also voted for an amendment to delay the effective date of the public accommodations section until Nov. 16, 1965. The amendment was defeated 59-40.

McClellan voted for and Fulbright was paired for an amendment to remove from the bill the section which directs that federal aid and funds be cut off from areas where discrimination is found to be practiced. The amendment was defeated 69-25.

They voted for an amendment to place a person in "double jeopardy" if he is tried for a crime and for criminal contempt for the same act. The amendment was adopted 49-48.

Ball Passes
the Word to Greek, Turks

By HAL MCCLURE

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball discussed the Cyprus crisis today with Premier Ismet Inonu, who later declared: "We are on the way to find a solution."

The foreign minister, Feridun Cemal Erkin, told reporters: "The United States has actively intervened in the Cyprus matter and America wants this question to be settled in a peaceful way and according to legitimate interests of Greece and Turkey."

Ball was dispatched to Athens and Ankara by President Johnson as the Cyprus crisis appeared to worsen in the wake of reports last weekend that Turkey planned military intervention in the troubled Mediterranean island.

The American diplomat talked with Inonu for two hours then took off for Washington. He had met Wednesday with Greek leaders in Athens.

A Turkish communiqué described the talk as open and sincere.

Ball told newsmen on his arrival in Ankara Wednesday night he had brought no solution to the Cyprus dispute, which threatens to touch off a war between Greece and Turkey, both members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

He said Johnson had sent him to learn the views of the Turkish government, accused by the Greek and Cypriot governments of preparing to invade the Mediterranean island off Turkey's south coast.

Informed sources said earlier that Ball brought a warning to both Greece and Turkey that the United States is prepared to take sharp measures to prevent a war over Cyprus that would be disastrous for NATO.

The sources did not specify what measures the United States would take.

Greek Premier George Papandreu said after his talk with Ball that he had warned of the consequences of any Turkish invasion.

"Our target is a peaceful solution and we endeavor to maintain peace," Papandreu said he told Ball.

American sources said the Greeks, alarmed at the prospect of war with the more powerful armed Turks, had asked the United States to send over a high official.

Ball also carried word that the United States was concerned over reports that President Makarios of Cyprus might seek Soviet arms to fight any Turkish invasion.

Makarios fired off messages to all United Nations members Wednesday asking them to use their influence to stop what he said were continuing Turkish threats.

The Greek Cypriot archbishop charged that Turkey had mobilized "great numbers of naval, land and air forces ready for an invasion of Cyprus."

A Foreign Office spokesman in Ankara denied that it plans military intervention in Cyprus. He said the Turks have taken only normal security precautions.

Little Rock to Close
Its Pools

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The City Manager Board decided to remove swimming pools from the city's recreational program after about 25 Negroes were refused permission to swim in War Memorial Park pool here Wednesday.

The board statement indicated that Gilliam Park Pool for Negroes would be a victim of the decision, along with War Memorial Park pool for whites.

The board said it would sell the pools to private groups, or close them.

L.C. Bates, field secretary for the NAACP, and Dr. Jerry Jewel, president of the Little Rock NAACP chapter, led the Negroes to the pool. They left when denied admittance.

DEPOSITION
No. 2 Heard in El Dorado

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — The court heard excerpts from a second deposition in a $2.3 million damage suit against the maker of MER-29 (triparanol) here Wednesday.

The suit is against Richardson-Merrill, Inc., and William S. Merrill Co. of New York.

The plaintiffs — Truman Elberhe, Mrs. May G. Lyons, Mrs. Lilla Newsome and Lonnie Ray, all of Crossett — claim they suffered physical harm by taking MER-29 for heart and circulatory ailments.

Phillip Ritter III, sales manager of Richardson-Merrill in 1960 and 1961, testified in the deposition.

The trial — believed to be the first to come to court — is in federal court here. Many other similar suits have been filed around the country.

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — John Landry figures the U.S. government owes him $1 million in damages for injuries he allegedly suffered while being returned here for trial on bank robbery charges.

Landry, 31, was arrested at St. Louis Feb. 27 on charges of taking $28,567 five days earlier from the New Iberia National Bank.

Enroute here from St. Louis, a car carrying Landry and a U.S. marshal was involved in a traffic accident at Little Rock.

No Change in Weather
Foreseen

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Isolated thunder showers should dot Northwest Arkansas today and tonight, but otherwise the weather picture for the state shows little change.

The weather forecast calls for hot daytime weather—with maximum high readings in the upper 90s—and warm nights, with low marks from 70 to 76 degrees.

Maximum readings Wednesday ranged from 92 at Fayetteville and Harrison to 99 at Little Rock, just one degree under the record high for that date.

Overnight low readings ranged from 68 at Fayetteville to 76 at Walnut Ridge.

3rd Negro
Enrolls at

MONROE, La. (AP) — A third Negro student, Leo Samuel Sauer, 22, was enrolled today at Northeast Louisiana State College here.

Sauer is the brother of one of two Negroes who registered at Northwest on Wednesday.

Leo Sauer was enrolled with junior standing. He is a biology major and previously attended Southern University for Negroes in Baton Rouge, La.

The registration of Leo went virtually unnoticed as the summer session student body of 1,800 settled into routine on the first day of classes.

The three Negroes are the first of their race to attend a desegregated educational facility in north Louisiana.

Man Goes
Berserk,
Kills Two

COLOGNE, Germany (AP) — A 43-year-old man, apparently going berserk, killed two women teachers today with a lance-like weapon and badly burned 12 young pupils with a home-made flamethrower, police reported.

Police declined to identify the man.

He was shot in the leg as he tried to run away from police. Police said the man early this morning approached a ground-floor classroom of an elementary school.

He smashed a window and sprayed the pupils with his flamethrower. A teacher, who tried to beat him off, was pierced by the assailant with the lance-like weapon and died later in hospital. Panic erupted among the pupils as the cloth of several of them began to burn.

Then, said police, the man ran to another classroom. The man killed a teacher there with the lance. The man turned his flamethrower on the children.

Murder Ship
Fights Fire
in Pacific

By HARRY MOSKOS

HONOLULU (AP) — The jinx ship Pomona, its former captain backed to death with an axe on the high seas last month, was heading back to Honolulu today after a fire forced the crew off the ship as it resumed its voyage under a new skipper.

With the Liberian-registered ship only 100 miles southwest of Honolulu, en route to Formosa, fire broke out Wednesday in the engine room and 30 crew members were ordered over the side into aircraft-dropped life rafts.

There were no injuries. The crew, less three men who remained aboard the Pomona, were picked up by the freighter Rio Manamo and transferred to the Coast Guard cutter Kukui.

Four hours later, with the fire under control but the engines apparently disabled, the men were placed back aboard the Pomona to await the arrival of a tug boat from Hawaii.

The new crew was composed of former first mate Alf Olsen, the captain; six Norwegian officers; a Brazilian radio operator and 25 Chinese seamen. The old crew refused to sail again after the slaying of Capt. Jacob Natvig in May. Natvig was slain with a fire axe in the vessel's first attempt to get to Formosa with 9,500 tons of scrap.

The captain's body was discovered by Olsen May 15 in his bunk and the ship diverted to Honolulu from 1,000 miles east of the islands. An extensive investigation failed to turn up the killer.

Wednesday's fire broke out 15 hours out of Honolulu. Coast Guard planes radioed that smoke was billowing up from behind the wheelhouse, above the engine room.

Olsen's SOS brought the Rio Manamo to her side within three hours. The Pomona remained on even keel throughout the crisis, the captain messaged. Cause of the fire is under investigation.

The ship is owned by the Nardal Shipping Co. of Brazil.

10 Hurt in Truck Crash
at Magnolia

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — Three persons were critically injured and seven less seriously hurt when a truck carrying them crashed into a culvert beside U.S. 82 Tuesday night, six miles east of here.

In critical condition at an El Dorado hospital were Brewster Hall, 14; Arthur Moore, 16; and Randy Miller, 15.

At the same hospital were Anderson Miller, 38, the truck driver; Carlis Bailey, 17; and Smead Stanley, 13.

Hospitalized at Magnolia: Roy Madison, 13; Leroy Davis, 17; Caleb Harper Jr., 13; and J. Lee Miller, 17.

Miller said he was driving the youths to Waldo, where they had a job loading chickens on transport trucks. He said the truck's steering section apparently failed.

His remains were to have been transferred to Ft. Sill for military rites.

Diggers, however, could not locate the grave on the farm land, even though they looked in 50 places while the crowd waited.

Breaking Civil Rights
Filibuster May Release
Delayed LBJ Measures

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's decision to end the civil rights filibuster may break open the legislative dam holding back a flood of major administration measures.

The action Wednesday certainly brightened the outlook for final adjournment of Congress well before the November presidential and congressional elections.

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said prospects are good for adjournment by Aug. 22, the Saturday preceding the opening of the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City.

He added, however, that it might be necessary for Congress to return for a brief wind-up between the end of the convention and Labor Day.

Should the Senate finish with the civil rights bill by the end of next week, House leaders hope to speed it to President Johnson before the recess preceding the start of the Republican National Convention in San Francisco on July 13. This timetable could trim several days off the pre-convention recess scheduled to start July 3 and end July 20.

The civil rights bill passed the House early this year, but Senate amendments must be acted on by the House.

Top priority will be given to 12 annual appropriation bills once the civil rights measure clears the Senate. These bills provide operating funds for the federal government for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Ten of them already have been passed by the House and another is slated for passage next week. A filibuster has prevented action on any of them in the Senate. Still, the Senate has been known to act in a hurry on money bills.

Many of the President's major proposals are in favorable position to be acted on quickly after the civil rights battle ends.

Among them are these:

1. Federal aid for development of mass transportation programs in urban areas. It has passed the Senate and is on the House calendar.

2. A package of antipoverty proposals. It has won approval of a House committee and may be cleared for House action by the Rules Committee next week.

3. Federal assistance for area redevelopment. This bill passed the Senate and was approved by the House Banking committee last year.

4. Foreign aid. The House Wednesday passed a bill extending the authorization for the program, subject to appropriations in a later measure. The program will be extended and financed, as usual, but the fight over its scope may run into the final hours of the session.

5. Pay raises for federal employees. Defeated once by the House, it has been tacked down and presumably is headed for enactment.

The one big administration proposal in difficulty would set up a program of medical care for the elderly through higher Social Security payments.

Mrs. Charles Garner of Jacksonville found a dark brown, crooked-tailed Chihuahua near her home Wednesday. She notified radio station KGMR, which broadcast the find.

Mrs. Ruth Childers of near here heard the broadcast and recalled an ad in a Little Rock newspaper, which she located in the May 26 edition.

McLemore could not be reached by telephone. Joan Sizemore of KGMR plans to write McLemore.

The ad said the dog answers to the name "Teena." Mrs. Childers called the dog by that name and she said she believes it responded.

South Wins
on Double Jeopardy

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate adopted 79-17 Thursday a southern sponsored "double jeopardy" amendment to the Civil Rights Bill. It was first modified so that it would not apply to state laws.

The amendment, offered by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., bars a person from being tried twice when the same act constitutes both a crime under federal law and criminal contempt of court.

A similar amendment was approved Wednesday by a 49-48 vote, but it was wiped out because of the parliamentary situation existing at the time of the cloture vote.

Overnight it was modified by Ervin to make clear that a person could be prosecuted for criminal contempt for violating an anti-discrimination injunction obtained under the bill even if he had been acquitted in a state court for acts involving the same circumstances.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the bill's floor manager, said that with this change he was willing to accept the amendment.

He had expressed concern

GOP Policy One Barry to Accept

By JACK BELL

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho predicted today that Republican governors will produce a "forward-looking" platform declaration that Sen. Barry Goldwater will accept as the GOP presidential nominee.

Smylie said in an interview the failure of the 16 Republican governors to agree on a policy declaration during the Governors Conference which ended Wednesday does not mean the project will be abandoned.

The Governors' Conference wound up without producing a new moderate opponent for the conservative Goldwater.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan issued a statement that was interpreted by his aides as saying he would fight for a progressive platform, but he would not battle Goldwater for the presidential nomination.

This seemed to end an effort by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon to get a moderate Republican other than Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York into the contest.

However, Nixon said in London that Goldwater does not have the nomination clinched and that Romney has the best chance of beating Goldwater.

"Goldwater is odds-on favorite at this time," Nixon told newsmen, "but the jury is still out. I would say the question is whether he goes over the top this next week."

Most Republican governors seemed to agree with Smylie, who said he thinks Goldwater has the nomination locked up.

The conference elected Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada, a Democrat, to succeed GOP Gov. John Anderson Jr. of Kansas as chairman. It picked Minnesota for next year's meeting, with indications that Minneapolis will be the site.

In contrast to previous meetings, the conference avoided any major controversy over the civil rights issue.

Democratic Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky and Republican Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, the GOP National Convention keynote, circulated a round robin urging prompt passage by Congress of the civil rights bill on which the Senate voted Wednesday to limit debate. It bore 40 signatures when the conference ended.

Doubts Mrs. Henderson Rational

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Majorie Ann Henderson did not know right from wrong when she shot her husband last Jan. 29, a psychologist testified in her trial here Wednesday.

Mrs. Henderson, 40, is charged with first-degree murder in the death of her husband, W.G. Henderson, at their home here.

Dr. Blocker Joslin of Atlanta, Tex., a psychiatrist, described the Henderson marriage as hostile and sick. He said both members of the marriage have been his patients.

Mrs. Henderson's condition was depressed with paranoid and schizoid tendencies, Joslin testified. He said he believed she did not know the consequences of her act.

The Rev. Richard C. Allen, Rector of St. James Episcopal Church here, said Mrs. Henderson told him after the shooting "she had done this thing and felt no remorse."

The state presented two witnesses, both policemen. The jury was not qualified for the death penalty. It includes one woman.

suggested it might be done by Wednesday.

The bill's bipartisan managers demonstrated Wednesday in two key votes they were in full command of the field following the cloture vote.

They beat down 59 to 40 an attempt by Russell to put off until Nov. 15, 1965, the effective date of the public accommodations provision.

Then they smashed, by a surprising 69 to 25 tally, an amendment of Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., to strike from the bill the title authorizing cutoff of federal funds to programs where discrimination is practiced.

Many Southern senators have said they consider this the most objectionable section of the bill. As cloture was imposed, 565 amendments had been introduced, mostly by Dixie senators.

But the Southerners said dozens of these were duplicates and that many never would be called up.

Kidnaping Charge Is Filed on 2

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — Lanny Paul Venable, 18, of Hackett, Ark., and William Allen Garrett, 20, of Fort Smith, Ark., were charged Wednesday by federal officials with kidnaping.

They were charged in the abduction of Gaylene Page, 18, a girl from Fort Smith.

The FBI filed charges against them here. Prosecutor Lyman Mikel of Fort Smith also charged them with kidnaping. Oklahoma officials had charged them with kidnaping, but decided to drop the charge so the men could be tried in federal court.

Venable and Garrett were arrested Monday night in Adair County, Okla., after a high speed chase with State Troopers. The men are held under $25,000 bond each.

Ike Wants Wide-Open Convention

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH and WALTER R. MEARS

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower wants a wide open Republican National Convention to stir the party's and the nation's interest—and insists he is no candidate's partisan or foe.

Eisenhower told The Associated Press he is plain disgusted by reports picturing him as a GOP puppeteer.

Eisenhower does not claim, however, that he is entirely happy with the course of Republican events during the last few months, but he emphasizes he never will deal in personalities. He disavows a role of either pulling strings for — or cutting the ground from under — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, or of seeking to block the presidential drive of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Eisenhower feels that in taking this position he simply is standing pat on a policy he enunciated long ago.

The former president, whose home is on the Civil War battlefield here, acknowledges Goldwater's current commanding lead in the drive for delegates at the San Francisco convention. But he is adamant in a belief that this in no way rules out

Winthrop Says Word for Barry

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — WINthrop Rockefeller said Wednesday night he would "enjoy working with my good friend, Barry Goldwater" if Goldwater gets the Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater, a U.S. Senator from Arizona, appears to have the nomination clinched.

Rockefeller, Republican can the possibility of another aspirant capturing the nomination. This is what he means when he talks of a wide open convention.

Eisenhower insists that the good of the Republican party and the country will be served only if the convention delegates are given a choice in the showdown for the nomination.

Otherwise, he asks with a show of exasperation, Why have a convention at all?

Eisenhower emphasizes there are a number of Republicans with an eye on the presidency, no matter what their chances. He thinks the nation's voters should have a chance to size up all the potential nominees by seeing the field in action at San Francisco.

As for himself, Eisenhower reminds callers that he has been saying since before he left the White House he has absolutely no desire to be a kingmaker—or even to express a public preference for any would be presidential nominee.

Congress in 2nd Look at Pay Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House takes a second look at a pay raise for itself today as it acts on a bill proposing $533.2 million in salary increases for 1.7 million federal workers.

Three months ago it rejected a $10,000-a-year pay boost for members of Congress in a vote widely interpreted as reflecting election year jitters.

This time around the proposed increase is $7,500 and House leaders expect approval.

Although once again the pressure is on the members voting to raise their own pay, the bill would provide salary increases ranging up to 22.5 per cent for one million federal career employees and 585,000 postal workers and would boost the pay of Supreme Court justices, Cabinet officers and top department heads by $7,500 a year.

date for governor, said Goldwater's candidacy for president probably would help his (Rockefeller's) bid for the governorship.

Hobbie Stars as Cards and Giants Split

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

"His fast ball goes like this—" and a pair of hands made a quick, darting movement. "His curve ball goes like this—" and the pair of hands made a sharp dip and slant. It's been a long time since the description of Glen Hobbie, who put the darting, dipping and slanting together Wednesday for his new St. Louis teammates and pitched his finest game this season—a two-hit, 2-1 triumph over National League-leading San Francisco.

Both hits off Hobbie came in the first inning. The 23-year-old right-hander allowed only one walk the rest of the way, gaining the Cardinals a doubleheader split after the Giants had taken the first game 3-0.

Hobbie now has made two appearances since being acquired from Chicago last week in an even swap for Lew Burdette. He had an 8.00 earned run average in 27 1/3 innings with the Cubs, but has a 1.13 mark after permitting only eight hits in 16 1/3 innings for the Cardinals.

Hobbie has been trying for four years to regain the dart, dips and slants described by the hands of former Cubs Manager Bob Schefling. Originally purchased for $50,000, Hobbie brought a quick dividend when he posted 10-victory seasons in 1959 and 1960.

Then he ran into back trouble and was able to win only 19 games over the last three seasons. At the tail end of 1963, Hobbie pitched two shutouts and seemed to be back in form, but he got off to an 0-3 start this year—and got on a plane to St. Louis.

His second-game victory against the Giants trimmed San Francisco's edge over second-place Philadelphia to four percentage points. The Phillies closed in with a 4-1 triumph over Pittsburgh behind Chris Short's four-hit pitching.

Elsewhere, Cincinnati edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-1 on Leo Cardenas' run-producing single in the 11th inning and the New York Mets walloped the Cubs 8-3 as Charlie Smith and Ed Kranepool accounted for six runs. Houston and Milwaukee were not scheduled.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox edged Baltimore 2-1. Detroit defeated Minnesota 5-4 and Washington beat Kansas City 3-1 in single games. The Los Angeles Angels swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 7-4 in 11 innings and 5-3 while Boston defeated the New York Yankees 7-6 in 10 innings before losing 10-6.

Hobbie, now 1-3, allowed a run in the first when Harvey Kuenn singled, moved up on a

The Reds pushed across the winning run in the 11th on a single by Johnny Edwards, a wild pitch by Ron Perranoski and Cardenas' single. The Dodgers had tied it in the fifth when Wally Moon capped a three-run uprising with a two-run homer. Vada Pinson hit a three-run homer for Cincinnati.

Travs Make It 12 Wins Out of 14

PMS TRAVELERS - bit
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers picked up their 12th victory in 14 games Wednesday night, defeating Indianapolis 4-2, in Pacific Coast League baseball here.

Len Clendenen went all the way for the Travelers, giving up 7 hits and struck out 12. The Arkansas team now has won two games of a three-game series with the Indians. They play the third game tonight.

All the game's runs came as a result of home runs.

Arkansas' first batter, Norm Gigon, opened scoring in the first inning with a homer over the right field fence.

The Travelers added two more in the second after Bill Sorrell walked and Adolfo Phillips blasted his 14th homer of the season over the center field fence.

Sorrell ended Arkansas' scoring the fourth with the third homer of the evening, a blast grounded and scored on a single by Willie Mays.

Curt Flood and Bill White then produced the runs Hobbie needed. Flood singled in the fifth, stole second and scored on White's single. In the seventh, Flood walked, stole second and scored the clincher on another White single off Ron Herbel.

Willie McCovey provided the key hit for the Giants in the opener, a two-run homer off Bob Gibson, 5-3. It was McCovey's first homer since May 22.

Bob Hendley and Gaylord Perry combined for the four-hit shutout. Perry lowering his earned-run average in relief work to 0.68 with two innings of hitless ball. He hasn't been scored on in his last 22 2/3 innings.

Clay Dahyrmple slapped a two-run single in the second inning and John Herrnstein slammed a two-run homer the fourth and that was more than enough for the Phillies. Short, now 4-3, was touched for the Pirates run in the second on a double by Bob Bailey and Bill Mazeroski's single.

The Reds pushed across the winning run in the 11th on a single by Johnny Edwards, a wild pitch by Ron Perranoski and Cardenas' single. The Dodgers had tied it in the fifth when Wally Moon capped a three-run uprising with a two-run homer. Vada Pinson hit a three-run homer for Cincinnati.

Fregosi Bats L.A. to Win Over Indians

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Fregosi, who once drove the team station wagon, has steered himself back to the top of the American League batting race.

Fregosi belted four hits and drove in six runs Wednesday night as Los Angeles downed Cleveland 7-4 in 11 innings. The Angels also won the second game of the doubleheader 5-3.

The 22-year-old shortstop's driving experience came while he played for Alpine, Tex., in the Sophomore League. Eight team members traveled in a station wagon, the other 12 in a rented limousine.

To avoid getting leg cramps while sitting in the back, Fregosi volunteered to drive the station wagon.

He might have escaped leg trouble then, but he hasn't this season. He pulled a leg muscle against New York May 23 and missed the next 15 games except for seven pinch-hitting appearances.

Since returning to the line-up full time last Sunday, Fregosi has lashed 10 hits in 19 at bats.

His performance Wednesday night raised his average 15 points to .362, tying him with Minnesota's Tony Oliva for the league lead.

Fregosi's hitting has stood out this season for the Angels, who are wallowing in ninth place, 13 1/2 games out of first.

Fregosi never has hit .300 in his four-year baseball career. Since coming to the Angels from Boston for $75,000 in the expansion draft, he has a major league average of .286.

He led all batters early this season but soon fell behind the red-hot Oliva. The Twins' rookie, however, went hitless in four times at bat as Detroit nipped Minnesota 5-4 Wednesday night.

In other games, Chicago edged Baltimore 2-1. New York outslugged Boston 10-6 after losing 7-6 in 10 innings and Washington stopped Kansas City 3-1.

In the National League, Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh 4-1. St. Louis squeezed by San Francisco 2-1 after being shut out 3-0. Cincinnati nipped Los Angeles 5-4 in 11 innings and New York trounced Chicago 8-3.

Fregosi doubled home two runs in the Angels' 11th in the opener. The tie-breaking run scored on Sonny Siebert's walk to Tom Satriano. Fregosi belted a run-scoring double in the fourth, then slammed a three-run homer the next inning. He had about single in the eighth.

The Angels sewed up the nightcap with four unearned runs in the fourth. After shortstop Dick Howser threw wildly on Lou Clinton's grounder, Bob Perry drove in two runs with a single and Satriano doubled home another pair. Vic Davalillo knocked in two Cleveland runs with a double in the first and a single in the third.

The White Sox won their 12th game in the last 16 with the aid of catcher's interference by Baltimore's Dick Brown in the fourth. Pete Ward was given first base on the interference call. Floyd Robinson, who had singled, then scored from second on Ron Hansen's single.

Roger Maris smashed a three-run homer, Tom Tresh a two-run blow and Tony Kubek a solo blast in the Yankees' second-game triumph.

Home runs by Tony Conigliaro and Dick Williams gave the Red Sox the opening victory. Phil Linz had put New York into a 6-5 lead in their half of the 10th with a run-scoring single.

Bob Allison drove in three runs for the Twins with a third-inning double and a two-run homer in the eighth. But Mike Roarke's run-producing single in the seventh proved to be the winning tally for the Tigers.

Wayne Causey contributed three errors to the Senators' attack. Washington scored in the second after a throwing error by the Athletics' shortstop and added two runs in the seventh with the help of his third error.

Smith hit a three-run homer for the Mets and Kranepool drove in three runs with a pair of singles. Jack Fisher allowed 11 hits as he brought his record to 4-4, but got Billy Williams to ground out four times and trimmed his league-leading batting average to .387.

Big Names to Miss All-Star

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It is election time in baseball. In the next few weeks, the big leaguers will pick the players for the All-Star game to be played July 7 at Shea Stadium. Unless they ignore the batting averages, some big names will be left off the ticket.

If you take the top average man from each position, the only repeaters of last year's regulars will be Ken Boyer of St. Louis, Willie Mays of San Francisco and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees.

Actually, Mantle didn't start last year in Cleveland because he was out of action due to a broken foot. However, Mickey had been picked for the team.

Albie Pearson of Los Angeles, hitting .220 this year through Tuesday's games, was his replacement.

Boyer is the only member of the Cardinals' All-Star infield in a position to repeat on the basis of average. Bill White, the first baseman, is hitting only .228. Julian Javier, at second base, is batting only .224 and Dick Groat, at short, with .284 is close but not quite up to Maury Wills of Los Angeles with his .288 mark.

Javier got in on a rain check last July when Bill Mazeroski of Pittsburgh suffered a pulled in the annual player draft.

Sawchuk said he would report to the Leafs but Moore, who had planned a Montreal comeback after his one-year retirement, balked at the move.

"Right now I'd say it's doubtful," he said Wednesday night. "I have to undergo an operation on my knee, for one thing, and my business in Montreal is another."

Moore, whose 96 scoring points in the 1958-59 season has not been surpassed, has a history of gimpy knees. He quit at the end of the 1962-63 campaign but was looking forward to playing again for the Canadiens.

Smith hit a three-run homer for the Mets and Kranepool drove in three runs with a pair of singles. Jack Fisher allowed 11 hits as he brought his record to 4-4, but got Billy Williams to ground out four times and trimmed his league-leading batting average to .387.

Morey Out to Win in British Play

By JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer

GANTON, England (AP)—“Hurry home, daddy.” That was the cable Dale Morey received from his two children—Maureen, who became six Wednesday, and Doug, who will be seven on Sunday—as the 44-year-old American from High Point, N.C., prepared to tackle Michael Bonallack, winner of the British Amateur in 1961, in the fourth round of this year’s championship today.

Morey and three other Americans are left in the last 32 of the tournament.

Morey said that he was out to do well this year after winning the North and South and pointed out:

“After this year I’ll have to think seriously about cutting back on competitive golf. At 44 this is something you’ve got to do.”

He said that playing in the British Amateur in a bid to win a place on his country’s Eisenhower Trophy team meant that he had missed the sixth birth day of his daughter and also “may mean that I’ll miss Doug’s birthday on Sunday.”

Morey was one of two Americans left in the last 32 who missed birthday parties at home. The other was John Thornton, of Rochester, N.Y., whose son, John Jr., will be 10 years old on Saturday.

Thirty-one Americans started same round with a 3 and 1 victory out in the British championship in a field of 200.

Morey made the last 32 with Thornton got through to the tory over Mike Pearson of England.

The other Americans in the fourth round are 52-year-old Bob Sweeney, winner of the title in 1937, and Jimmy Bostwick, of Locust Valley, N.Y. Sweeney is from Palm Beach, Fla.

The championship is being decided over the 6,854 yards Ganton course, which carries a par of 3635-71. Competitors have to play seven 18-hole rounds to reach Saturday’s 36-hole final.

Chair for a Queen at Royal Ascot

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Writer

ASCOT, England (AP)—I tested for size and comfort a chair that, next to the throne itself, should prove in the years to come the favorite seat of Queen Elizabeth II.

It is a gaily upholstered bamboo-framed chair in the brand new royal box in the gleaming $3.5 million royal enclosure stand at what is perhaps the world’s most exclusive race track.

The track is Royal Ascot located in the countryside 26 miles west of London.

At the risk of committing lese majeste, it must be reported that the queen’s new seat should be very close to her heart.

Why? Because the queen’s favorite sport is horse racing. And the queen’s favorite track is Royal Ascot, hard by her beloved Windsor Castle.

It wasn’t exactly easy to test the queen’s new racing chair, especially as even the queen hasn’t yet tried it out. She will have the first opportunity at the Royal Ascot races June 20.

First it took some help from high places. This was forth coming from Bernard Marma Duke Fitzalar Howard, 16th Duke of Norfolk, premier duke of England and senior steward of the Jockey Club.

His grace gave a preview of the new Ascot stand, which now accommodates 8,000 people, compared to the old one which held 2,500.

“Just walk around,” suggested the duke, “and look at what you want to do. You’ll find officials scattered around the place to answer your questions.”

The royal box can be entered only from beneath a newlybuilt two-storied archway. Two officials stood in the doorway and nodded loftily when asked if the royal box could be entered. Inside all was swanky.

Two chintz-covered bamboo chairs were in the front of the box, the one on the left for the queen and the other for her chief guest. Behind them, as if placed by precedence, were other chairs. Some are not as grand as the others.

The box is entirely glassed in, but the front glass can be raised and lowered electrically.

But back to the queen’s chair. Finding myself in front of it, I gave way to a natural impulse to sit down.

“May I?” I asked from the depths of the upholstery.

“Well, you’ve already done it, haven’t you?” replied the attendant.

Being in the chair, it was only natural to wiggle about and test the resilience of the springs and softness of the upholstery. They were perfect.

Negro at Mississippi U. Warned

By MIKE SMITH
OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—The University of Mississippi, which nine months ago resumed its status as an all-white institution prepared today to accept its third Negro student.

On Sept. 30, 1962, when the first Negro arrived on the oak-circled campus, a night of death and turmoil followed.

Cleveland Donald, 17, of Jackson, Miss., who wants to become a lawyer, was expected to register today for the summer term.

Federal Judge Harold Cox cleared the way for Donald to enroll Wednesday. He also directed Donald to refrain from participation in civil rights activities or from engaging in any rights groups. Donald was arrested twice last summer during Negro civil rights protests in Jackson.

Acting Gov. Carroll Gartin said he would have no comment on the decision. Gov. Paul Johnson who attended the annual governor’s conference personally blocked James H. Meredith from registering at Ole Miss two years ago.

Johnson, then lieutenant governor, and former Gov. Ross Barnett, face criminal contempt charges in the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals stemming from the crisis over Meredith’s enrollment.

The federal government rushed in 22,000 troops to the Oxford area to restore order after Meredith enrolled. A riot the night he arrived left two dead and several hundred injured.

Meredith was graduated last August.

A second Negro, Cleve McDowell, who enrolled last June in the law school, was expelled last fall for carrying a pistol.

Ole Miss officials have prepared special housing arrangements for Donald, who attended predominantly Negro Tougaloo College, a church-supported institution near Jackson, this past term.

Words Fly as Title Bout Nears

By ROBERT MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Pre-fight verbal skirmishes between the camps of welterweight champion Emile Griffith and challenger Luis Rodriguez on the eve of their title match here reached an intriguing level.

Perhaps indelicately, but dead seriously, the issue concerns the level of the navel.

Angelo Dundee, Rodriguez’ handler, appeared before the Nevada Boxing Commission Wednesday and bluntly charged that Griffith wears his trunks too high.

“Every time he gets hit legitimate at the waistline, he screams foul because he wears his waistline up around his armpits,” Dundee declared, taking some liberties with the truth.

Griffith also rolls the top of his trunks over the wide belt of his protective cup, which further adds to the high rise, said Dundee, adding: “It would take a search warrant to locate Griffith’s belly button.”

Retorted Gil Clancy, Griffith’s co-manager: “Maybe we could paint a new belly button on Emile. Up higher, of course.”

Still in serious vein, Dundee demanded that the commission order a personal check of the matter and the Griffith people quickly requested the same examination be made of Rodriguez’ fighting gear.

So executive secretary Jim Deskin dutifully went to their respective headquarters and had each fighter pose in his own costume for the nationally televised 15-rounder Friday night.

Reporting back with tongue in cheek, Deskin said:

“I can announce that both of them have navels. Griffith’s is one-quarter inch smaller than Luis’ but both are located at the legal height at the waist line.”

“I told them to wear their trunks at the waistline and no sneaking around trying to pull them up during the fight.”

Deskin said he will instruct the referee to watch, if not contemplate, the respective navels.

Rodriguez remained an 8-5 betting favorite to dethrone Griffith, who uncrowned him last June after Emile had lost the title to Cuban refugee the preceding March.

Boros to Defend His Two Titles

By CHARLES C. CAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP)—Easygoing Julius Boros set out on a backbreaking assignment today—defense of two big golf titles within two weeks.

The 44-year-old Boros led a field of 149 pros into today’s opening round of the 72-hole $66,000 Buick Open at Warwick Hills Country Club.

In addition to trying to hold onto his Buick title, Boros faces the job of trying to retain his National Open title at the Congressional Country Club in Washington, D.C., next week.

PGA officials said the record book indicated this was the first time a National Open champ took on the job of defending that crown and another title in consecutive weeks. Boros was that man.

Boros found the 7,280 yard rolling Warwick course to his liking Wednesday as he shot a 69—three under par—in a pro-am tournament. Boros had four subpar rounds in last year’s Buick tournament which he led from the opening day.

All six winners of previous Buick Opens were here for the seventh renewal. Besides Boros, they included Billy Casper, Art Wall Jr., Mike Souchak, Billy Collins and Jackie Burke.

Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, who are 12 in money winnings on the PGA tour this year, passed up the Buick tournament to get in practice rounds for the National Open.

Among those shooting for the Buick $66,000 prize money were Tony Lema, fresh from his victory last Sunday in the Thunderbird Open, and Gary Player who has picked up $29,000 thus far in 1964.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS LONDON (AP) — The marriage of two of Princess Margaret's close friends is breaking up.

Camilla Fry, 33, has filed suit for divorce from her husband, Jeremy, 39, godfather to the princess' older child, Viscount Linley. Fry has been named co-respondent in a divorce action brought by sculptor Lynn Chadwick, 50, against his wife, Frances, 26.

Margaret's husband, Lord Snowdon, reportedly proposed to her at the Fry's home near Bath. Fry was to have been best man at the wedding but had to drop out because of illness.

With approval already voted by the House of Commons, the way was cleared for the federal government to ratify the long-debated pact.

Since the U.S. Congress approved the treaty in 1961, the only formality remaining is an exchange of instruments of ratification.

4-Billion Works Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $4,325,000,000 public works appropriation bill, 11th of 12 annual money measures to be considered by Congress this year, was approved today by the House Appropriations Committee.

It finances civil functions of the Defense Department, the Atomic Energy Commission, the Tennessee Valley Authority, the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation, the Reclamation Bureau and power agencies of the Interior Department. The total is $46.5 million less than President Johnson requested and $79.5 million less than Congress gave the same programs last year.

If approved by the House next week without change, the bill would boost to $82 billion the total of new appropriations voted this year by the House for use during the fiscal year starting July 1.

None of the House-passed measures has been considered by the Senate, which is in its 76th day on civil rights.

Prospects Good for Foreign Aid

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional foreign aid backers were buoyed by the down-the-line House approval of President Johnson's $3.5-billion foreign aid authorization request.

The only reduction — $27,000 — came about because of a technical correction of an oversight. Final approval came on a 230-175 roll-call vote.

Although Wednesday's House action gave the bill a major plus, there's still a long course ahead before the money is forthcoming. The authorization approval merely sets a lid on spending.

The House Appropriations Committee and the full House still must approve a final appropriation and the measure must run the full course in the Senate. The two chambers must end up in agreement before the funds are made available.

The first thicket administration strategists have to negotiate is the House Appropriations Committee headed by Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., and Passman, a key opponent of foreign aid, is talking in terms of big cuts.

He denied categorically that he had ever discussed with anyone a so-called "package" reduction in his committee of $250 million, as has been described in a published report.

"Anybody who guessed on a figure of $250 million is really wild," Passman told a reporter. "Why, we'll take out that much in the first hour of the markup (subcommittee consideration of the appropriation bill)." Passman previously mentioned publicly a figure of $900 million as what he would like to lop off the President's program under the ceiling set by the authorization bill.

"If I was going to capitulate on 90 per cent, why not go the whole way and be a real flop in the eyes of my constituents?" the Louisiana congressman asked.

Nonetheless, foreign aid supporters were elated by their victory Wednesday. And Johnson said he members of both parties "who rightly concluded that this is no time to be cutting a carefully drawn measure, deserve the thanks of their countrymen."

The authorization now goes to the Senate, where it is likely to get kind treatment.

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Cubans were told Tuesday night it doesn't matter whether the Democrats or the Republicans win the U.S. election because both will be bad for Latin America.

Transfer of 45 Negroes Is Asked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Paul R. Fair, deputy school superintendent, said Tuesday that about 45 Negro students have asked to be reassigned to mostly white schools in the Little Rock system.

Fair said hearings on these requests, and on about 100 requests by white students for reassignment, will probably begin next week.

The school board assigned 198 Negro pupils to 17 desegregated schools here in May. There were 121 Negro students in 15 schools in the last term.

2 Americans Missing in S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Marine Corps enlisted men were reported missing and may have been captured by Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

An American military spokesman announced today the two men, assigned to a Marine helicopter unit at Danang, 380 miles north of Saigon, have been missing since Sunday when they went on a beach picnic.

Their disappearance raises to 14 the number of American military personnel missing since December 1961.

Identification of the two has been withheld.

Suspension Laos Flights Temporary

By ANTOINE YARED

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) —

Premier Souvanna Phouma said today that U.S. reconnaissance flights over Laos to be resumed if he gets information of further Communist troop movements.

The neutralist premier, returning from a visit to the royal capital of Luang Prabang, said he had asked the U.S. government for a "temporary suspension" of the photographic missions over central Laos "because there were no signs of (Communist) troop movements."

"If we receive information in the next few days that there are further troop movements," he said, "The reconnaissance flights will be resumed."

The United States temporarily halted the fighter-escorted photographic missions Wednesday. Despite Souvanna's statement that they were not necessary for the time being, the general impression was that he was disturbed by the angry reaction from the Communist Pathet Lao and Communist China after the United States last weekend began using armed jet fighters to escort the unarmed reconnaissance jets.

U.S. Ambassador Leonard Unger said Wednesday that continuing the flights still was a matter of discussion between him and Souvanna. Unger said he would meet with the premier today or Friday, after Souvanna returned from seeing King Savang Vathana in Luang Prabang.

Unger disclaimed receiving a formal request from Souvanna to halt the flights. The United States began photo-reconnaissance flights over central Laos at Souvanna's request on May 21 after Communist troops drove Souvanna's neutralist army from positions around the Plaine des Jarres.

Armed fighters began escorting the photographic mission after Communist ground fire knocked down a U.S. reconnaissance plane east of the Plaine des Jarres Saturday. The pilot, Lt. Charles F. Klusmann, 30, bailed out and apparently was captured.

A fighter escort was shot down in the same jungle area the next day, but the pilot was rescued by helicopter.

In addition to photographing Communist military activity, another aim of the reconnaissance flights is to demonstrate U.S. determination to keep Laos from being overwhelmed by the Reds.

Goldwater Looking for Ticket Mate

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater—standing on the threshold of the Republican presidential nomination—is eying four Eastern GOP leaders as he thinks about a running mate.

To his closest associates, Goldwater has mentioned these names as possible vice-presidential choices:

- Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton.
- Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky.
- Rep. William E. Miller of New York.
- Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio.

Goldwater hasn't ruled anybody in or out of the running, a source close to the Arizona senator said today.

But Goldwater has said he thinks the Republican National Convention will want to balance the ticket—if he heads it—with a moderate Republican from the East.

The four men associates say Goldwater has mentioned all fit that pattern.

Publicly, Goldwater usually bypasses questions about a vice-presidential choice. "I'm looking for delegates, not vice presidents," is his stock reply.

He has talked about Scranton, suggesting the Pennsylvania governor would be well advised to consider the vice-presidential nomination.

That way, Goldwater said Sunday, if the ticket lost, the governor would be in a position to capture the presidential nomination in 1968.

Scranton questioned whether a ticket pairing him with Goldwater would make sense. He said they would disagree on how best to implement some Republican principles.

But Goldwater described their areas of disagreement as very minor.

With his delegate strength mounting steadily toward the 655 votes he needs for the nomination, Goldwater was said by an aide to be viewing the vice-presidential spot in terms of how best to strengthen the ticket next November—not with an eye to building his convention power.

An Associated Press survey now puts his delegate total at 540—with indications he could push it past the nominating number next week.

Efforts to blunt his drive appeared to have collapsed at the National Governors' Conference in Cleveland.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

RIFLES: The Army is keeping closer tabs on who buys its surplus rifles.

The office which promotes civilian marksmanship has centralized a listing of persons who purchase the rifles from the Army and who belong to recognized rifle clubs.

Authorities denied Monday the move came as a result of President John F. Kennedy's assassination by a sniper using a surplus Italian army rifle.

They said the actions stemmed from an increased volume of inquiries about persons and clubs authorized to draw weapons and ammunition from Army stocks for target practice and competition.

ROMANIA: The United States will talk over with its allies its tentative plans for selling two nuclear reactors to Communist Romania, a State Department spokesman said Monday.

State Department press officer Richard I. Phillips said there will be conversations in Paris with the committee of allies which coordinates trade with Communist countries with the general aim of blocking any goods of military importance.

DISTURBANCE: A group of Mississippi Negroes told a panel of educators, lawyers and writers Monday of suffering beatings, shootings and bombings in their state.

Some of the incidents came after Negroes attempted to register, they said.

The meeting, sponsored by the Council of Federated Organizations which plans a massive Negro voter registration drive in Mississippi this summer, was interrupted briefly.

A white man who identified himself as George Patler 26, a member of the American Nazi party, leaped on stage shouting for the Negroes to "go home. You're a bunch of filthy swine."

Police arrested him.

Walker's AP Libel Suit Tried

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A witness presented by Edwin A. Walker, quoted the former Army major general as saying Walker was powerless to stop the University of Mississippi student riot if he had wanted to.

The trial of the $2-million civil libel suit Walker filed against The Associated Press resumed today.

Talmadge Witt, 43, former Pontotoc, Miss., deputy sheriff, testified Tuesday he was near Walker on the University of Mississippi campus the night of Sept. 30, 1962 during a night-long riot over admission of Negro James H. Meredith.

Witt said he heard an Episcopal minister, the Rev. Duncan Gray beg Walker to stop the student attacks on rioting U.S. marshals who fired tear gas in return.

"Witt quoted Walker as saying: 'I'm not here to break it up. I didn't come here to break it up. I couldn't break it up if I wanted to.'"

Witt said, on cross-examination by J. A. Gooch, an Associated Press attorney, that Walker later told a group of the rioting students: "Protest all you want to. They (the marshals) may run out of (tear) gas. Help is on the way thousands are coming."

Witt, and other earlier witnesses, said Walker was asked several times to lead a student charge on the marshals, but each time Walker said he was in Oxford, Miss., merely to observe.

Walker claims in his suit that certain Associated Press stories on his activities at Oxford were false and malicious. The Associated Press, which will present its evidence following Walker's witnesses, contends its accounts were true in fact and substance, and without malice.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Today is Thursday, June 11, the 163rd day of 1964. There are 203 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1859, prospectors found the fabulous Comstock Lode in Nevada from which more than $500 million in silver and gold were taken in the next 20 years.

On this date, King George I of England died.

In 1906, public schools were opened in the Philippines.

In 1942, a lend-lease agreement between the United States and Russia was announced.

In 1945, the United States Senate voted to continue the Office of Price Administration for another year.

In 1946, President Truman vetoed the Case labor bill.

Ten years ago — Under terms of the Arab collective security pact, Egypt and Saudi Arabia agreed to pool their defense and military resources.

Five years ago — In a note to Cuba, the State Department expressed concern over the adequacy of the new Cuban agrarian reform law's provisions for paying United States citizens whose property might be expropriated.

One year ago — President Kennedy warned the nation in a televised speech that it faces output.

Thus basic commodity price increases in themselves don't necessarily spell general inflation.

Involved have been steel, aluminum, copper, zinc, lead, tin. The creeping advance has been stretched over the last 12 months.

At first the increases were on selected products in active demand. Weakness in other products has brought price cuts.

But basic metal prices are now beginning to rise. Latest are aluminum ingots which are going up half a cent to 24 cents a pound, or back to where they were in December 1962, but still short of the 26 cents a pound of September 1961.

The cautious approach in aluminum and some other metals has been dictated by competition both at home and abroad.

Many metal producers have indicated no hurry to cripple demand by pricing their products higher than the substitutes which increasingly plague them.

Technological advances have brought individual metals in competition with each other for particular uses. Price often can be the determining factor with purchasing agents.

Metals also have had rough going in recent years as their markets were invaded by plastics, glass, concrete and wood.

Metals are peculiarly tied to developments in foreign lands. Sometimes this is surplus capacity to produce, so that foreign output rises automatically with world demand, leaving American producers right where they were competitively. Often cheaper production costs abroad threaten American metal price structures.

Luci was attending her first formal state dinner party. She was invited along with the 160 guests honoring visiting Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag of Denmark and his attractive actress

Romney Not Available to GOP's

By JACK BELL

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The annual Governors' Conference, which has had all the aspects of a miniature Republican convention, ends today with Sen. Barry Goldwater galloping almost unchallenged toward the GOP presidential nomination.

The 56th annual convention hasn't produced a moderate Republican opponent for the conservative senator from Arizona.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon tried hard to stir up a nomination fight that some of his critics thought was aimed at opening the way for Nixon himself to run against President Johnson as a compromise choice.

But none of the GOP governors who had claimed that Goldwater's views are not in the mainstream of Republican thinking wanted to take on the senator.

Latest to bow out was Gov. George Romney of Michigan. He announced through his press secretary Tuesday that he would not become an active candidate. Romney said he would accept a draft, but wouldn't go back on a 1962 commitment to Michigan voters not to seek national office this year.

This announcement came after Nixon said he had urged Romney to run, and Romney said he had been urged by some fellow governors to make the race and would consider it.

Earlier, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania retired from the field after former President Dwight D. Eisenhower put on a go-and-stop operation in his behalf. Eisenhower urged Scranton to make himself more available, then advised the governor not to join any cabal against Goldwater.

This left Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York as Goldwater's only avowed opponent. And it was evident that none of the other governors, nor Nixon, wanted to support him.

Nixon, who flew out of town after his strenuous efforts to launch a stop-Goldwater movement failed, warned party moderates that there is less than a 50-50 chance of preventing Goldwater's nomination.

He told a news conference in wife.

The Kraggs had gone home a half hour earlier and it was near midnight when Luci's center-floor frug came around.

Luci's sedate sister, Lynda, 20, had the goodnight round with young Marine Lieut. David Le-fève of Abilene who she is dating.

This evening Lynda stars as the hostess at a hamburger gala for the nation's top students honored by Johnson at the White House as presidential scholars.

Baltimore that if Romney fails to actively seek the nomination it will go to Goldwater on the first ballot at the convention in San Francisco next month.

Nixon said both Rockefeller and Scranton are virtually out of the race and his own prospects are remote.

Nixon called his efforts to get a governor into the race an attempt to create a "third force" between Goldwater and Rockefeller. Asked if he wasn't trying to stop Goldwater after having assured the senator prior to the June 2 California primary that he wouldn't join in such a move, Nixon replied:

"Many Goldwater supporters would so construe it. I don't."

Nixon said he was trying to advance a candidate who would represent the principles of the party as they are thought of in the industrial states of Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and California.

Nixon said he plans to meet next week with Eisenhower. He said Eisenhower, who talked with Romney at the conference, has spoken highly of the Michigan governor.

UNEASY LIES THE DEAD

By M. E. Chaher

Copyright © 1964 by Kendall Foster Crossen
Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The Story: Milo March has questioned members of the Washington hotel staff who were on duty nearly seven years ago when Thomas Rako vanished. Among those he has questioned were the bell captain and the waiter for room service. The waiter said he delivered Rako's meal when the man was in the shower and Rako left a $100 tip.

XVI

I'd been so busy since the case had been handed to me the morning before that there had been no time really to think about it. As soon as I was relaxed, I started thinking.

The more I thought about it, the better I liked the idea that Johnny Clark had helped Rako to get away and reach a hiding place. It made sense from almost every angle.

If Clark knew that Rako was dead he wouldn't bother having his men follow me. Even if I found a body, it would be pretty hard to prove who had murdered Rako. If they stayed on the trail it could be pretty good proof that Rako was alive somewhere, that Clark either knew where he was or wanted to learn, and that when I either got too close or found him, they'd act. On the other hand, if he knew where Rako was he might act as soon as he thought I was on the right track.

All right, I told myself. I had a story. The next question was how it worked? How had Rako gotten out of the hotel and to some sort of transportation without being recognized? His picture had been in all the newspapers at the time and somebody should have recognized him.

Then I realized there was an easy answer to one part of the question Newspaper photographs are not always clear. I was remembering the picture I'd seen of Rako in the newspaper clippings I'd examined in Cleveland. Rako had been wearing a snap-brimmed hat and had been trying to duck the photographer. Put the same man in a cap and a different type of suit, make a few minor changes in his face — maybe shave off part of his eyebrows, even pad his cheeks a little and no one would take a second look unless they knew the police were looking for him. Disguise was no great problem.

I was sure that the FBI had done a thorough job of checking all exit points from Washington. But there were two factors that might have foiled their investigation. He could have left by car, and there wouldn't have been any way to check it. But somehow I doubted if he had done so. It would have been too slow for a man in a hurry.

Then there was a time element. According to the testimony of the room service waiter, the time Rako had left was more or less fixed. He had arrived at the hotel about 5:30 and he hadn't left until some time after his dinner was served, which was—I suddenly sat up on the bed—I must have been tired. I'd slipped up

I picked up the phone and asked for room service. "This is Room 1001," I said when it was answered. "I'd like a pot of coffee and would you please send it up with the same waiter who brought me ice about a half-hour ago?"

"Yes, sir," a voice said with an inflection that implied it was accustomed to answering the requests of nuts.

I remained in a sitting position and waited, pouring myself another drink in the meantime. It was about 10 minutes before the knock came on the door.

"Come in," I called.

The door opened and the waiter entered with the coffee. He put it down and handed me the check.

"Aren't you going to have dinner, sir?" he asked.

"Later," I said. I added another generous tip and gave him the check. "What's your name?"

"Herman, sir."

"All right, Herman. do you remember what time you brought dinner to Mr. Rako that night seven years ago?"

"Yes, sir. Seven-thirty."

"Fine. Now will you do me a favor?"

"If I can, sir."

"You can."

I got up and walked into the bathroom. I turned both faucets of the shower on and came back to the room. I swung the bathroom door half-shut.

"Was that about the way the door was that night when you brought the dinner?"

"I think so, sir."

"Now, would you go into the corridor, close the door, and then knock on it?"

He looked puzzled, but he started out of the room. I went into the bathroom and swung the door to the same position as before. I waited while I counted to thirty slowly. I heard nothing. I went out and opened the door. The waiter was standing there.

"Did you knock?" I asked him.

"Yes, sir. Twice."

"Thank you, Herman. That's all."

I closed the door.

Disagree on Splitting Bridge Cost

MEMPHIS (AP) —Arkansas and Tennessee highway heads failed here Tuesday to agree on how much each state is to pay for a $42 million Mississippi river bridge.

The federal government would pay 9 per cent of the cost of building the proposed six-lane bridge, with the states paying the rest.

Tennessee has argued for a 50-50 split of the states' portion of the cost. Arkansas wants a 40-60 split, when Tennessee paying the .60 per cent—about $3 million. Wayne Hampton of Stuttgart, Ark., chairman of the Arkansas Highway Commission, made the 40-60 proposal.

David Pack, Tennessee highway commissioner, indicated that Tennessee might compromise "if there seems to be sufficient basis."

Hampton said many Arkansans are against using state money for the bridge.

Many feel that $2 million is a generous figure because the bridge will lead from a sparsely populated Arkansas area into metropolitan Memphis, a city of about 400,000.

Pack said that $24 million of the bridge would be in Arkansas, with $18 million in Tennessee, so this eventually would lead to Tennessee paying 70 per cent and Arkansas 30 per cent of the cost of the bridge.

A statement issued at the end of the meeting said it had brought the groups "closer to agreement on bridge financing. However, both states must return to their respective capitols

Beef Best Bargain in Food Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef is hard to beat as a main course this weekend, with prices staying low and the selection of special attractions very wide.

Pork production is beginning to diminish after two years of expansion, but plenty of items are featured this weekend. Bacon is a star at many shops, with loins, hams and smoked butts also featured. Cookout fans will find spareribs offered reasonably.

At produce counters, features include asparagus, field peas, okra, sweet corn, spinach, green peppers, cucumbers, radishes. Also offered are cabbage, lettuce, green onions, leafy greens, green beans, yellow squash, broccoli and sweet potatoes.

Fruit offerings are especially colorful. They include blueberries, cherries, apricots, mangoes, peaches, strawberries, limes, plums and blackberries. These are among the new features, joining a list that has prevailed for several weeks, including oranges, watermelon, cantaloup, and rhubarb.

Dairy counters offer a wide selection during June Dairy Month, and eggs continue to be offered at featured prices.

Life in Arkansas

By J. C. TILLMAN

A Forrest City couple had a lot of mental juggling to do to decide whether to attend commencement exercises at Hendrix College or Arkansas State Teachers College this year.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Stephens wound up at State Teachers, to see their son Charles receive a bachelor of arts degree.

They compromised their problem earlier in the day, however, by attending baccalaureate services at Hendrix, where another son, Robert Duane, received a bachelor's degree the same night.

This is the first time in years services at the two schools, both in Conway, have conflicted.

When Carl Johnson of Batesville was in Fort Worth recently to take part in an antiques show, he got a Texan interested in his wares and invited him to Arkansas.

In describing the route to Batesville, Johnston mentioned the community of Bald Knob and the Texan split his sides laughing.

"By the way, where do you live," Johnston asked the Texan.

"Oh, I come from over at Muleshoe, Texas," came the straight-faced reply.

Johnny wasn't sure he had the bee so he rode on home holding the shirt. When he opened the shirt the bee fell dead at his feet and he breathed a sigh of relief from a narrow escape.

Then he proceeded to brush away the bits of bee left on the clinging to his shirt—and stung himself on the stinger which the bee had deposited in it.

A Camden flower lover is considering roast pork as a means of preserving her garden. Some hog with wanderlust, she says, has roamed into her garden several nights, but so far she has been unable to pen the animal.

Johnny Starr, 14, of Little Rock, is an ace at defending himself against bees, but he needs protection from himself.

A bee flew into his shirt the other day while he was riding his motorscooter. In quick-thinking self defense, he grabbed a handful of shirt and pinched—hard.

Johnny wasn't sure he had the bee so he rode on home holding the shirt. When he opened the shirt the bee fell dead at his feet and he breathed a sigh of relief from a narrow escape.

Then he proceeded to brush away the bits of bee left on the clinging to his shirt—and stung himself on the stinger which the bee had deposited in it.

Proverbs are often condensed fables, and many common proverbial phrases (sour grapes, a dog in the manger, a wolf in sheep's clothing, to cry "wolf," never count your chickens before they are hatched) summarize well-known fables.

JOIN THE FUN . . . EAT OUTDOORS

Outdoor eating has become one of the favorite American pastimes. No wonder . . . it's so relaxing. After a long hot summer day, supper on the porch or patio does "something" to heat-battered spirits.

Keep the menu simple . . . and, if you like, do the cooking outdoors, too. Broiled or grilled hamburgers in tomato chutney sauce will delight all. During the cooking time, baste ground lamb patties with this "easy-do" sauce . . .

Goldwater Short: 'It's in the Book'

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater provided Republican governors with a booklet when some of them wanted clarification on where he stood on the issues. This wasn't a very flattering thing to do to them.

It was like telling them they would know where he stood if they had paid attention and read this booklet: "Sen. Goldwater Speaks Out On the Issues." It had been in circulation nationwide for weeks.

Nevertheless, Goldwater has not always been consistent in what he said over the past few years. This doesn't bother him. He himself has said: "Consistency is not necessarily a virtue."

He said there was something wrong with a public man who didn't change his mind "to meet the developments of the times."

In the 1950s he said former President Harry S. Truman had "fathered all the misdeeds of recent years" and was the "architect of everything wrong with America today."

In 1963, he said America needs another decisive president like Truman who, he thought, would go down in history as one of the greatest presidents. In 1963, Goldwater, who proudly calls himself a conservative, said the true one seeks progress based on proven values of the past while the "so-called liberal" is one who seeks change for the sake of change alone. In 1964 he said he thinks history will rate him a liberal.

In 1962, he said as president he would seriously consider transporting Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist troops from Formosa to the Red China mainland for an invasion. But the next year, Last February he was for getting them there.

using warships to halt the thip-States and by "ourselves." ment of British buses and French products to Cuba but a month later said he would try to discourage Allied trade with Fidel Castro by "example and use of diplomatic pressure."

In 1961, Goldwater talked of landing armed forces in Cuba to throw out Castro and in 1963 of a blockade, support of Cuban exile attacks, and invasion by the Organization of American fealist and dangerous non-

He even thought, he said, he would be for doing "anything necessary to get rid of that cancer (Castro). If it means war, let it mean war." But this year he said "the suggestion that we must either accept communism in Cuba or invade Cuba is defeatist and dangerous nonsense."

He had said it was improper for the government to intervene in school desegregation or to use troops to enforce desegregation orders of the courts. But by last month he canged his view, said "I'm glad when I can recognize I'm wrong."

When he first came to the Senate in 1953, he was all for changing the filibuster rules to cut off lengthy debates. He changed and now says he won't vote to end the anti-civil rights filibuster now in its 75th day.

He said if he was president he would break off diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union but last January added he would need Senate approval to do this. He couldn't have been more wrong.

The Senate must approve treaties but not breaking off diplomatic relations.

He stopped advocating putting Social Security on a voluntary basis and now says his only interest in the system is to improve it by making the pension dollar sound. After he lost the New Hampshire primary in March his campaign manager said his talk of a voluntary Social Security system was a major boner.

He favors getting rid of the "whole graduated income tax" so that rich and poor pay the same percentage of tax. But the American income tax has always been graduated from the time of the first one in Civil War days under President Abraham Lincoln.

In 1962 and 1963, Goldwater favored getting out of the United

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Friday, June 12, the 164th day of 1964. There are 202 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1776, the Virginia Convention adopted a declaration of rights formulated by George Mason and which later became a model for the Bill of Rights embodied in the first 10

Nations. By the latter part of 1963, he was for staying in. By 1964 he said he couldn't recall ever having suggested getting out.

Between 1960 and 1964 Goldwater said so many times he would not seek the Republican presidential nomination that as late as Sept. 15, 1963, he said, "I've said a thousand times I'm going to run for the Senate, nothing more."

But just 11 days before that The Associated Press reported Goldwater had rented the entire 15th floor of a hotel in San Francisco for next month which is when the Republicans hold their nomination convention there.

Then on Jan. 3, 1964, he announced his candidacy and at the same time said he would too, although he had derided Lyndon B. Johnson for running for the vice presidency and the Senate in 1960.

He had said he wouldn't seek both. Now he says he will give up the Senate race if he gets the presidential nomination.

IT'S WATERMELON TIME

WATERMELON . . . America's "fun fruit" is back in season. Now available at your favorite grocery or super-market, luscious, Southern-grown watermelons make marvelous eating anytime and are perfect Summer fare. As vitamin-sweet as they are good to eat, watermelons lend themselves to sophisticated handling, as well as to backyard picnicking. If you like yours dressed up a bit, try this: PARTY DESSERT: Make three heaping cups of Watermelon balls. Add 2 cups of sliced peaches, 1 cup of strawberries and 2 cups of white wine. Combine fruits, add wine, and chill for three hours. Turn into a serving dish: Serves six. (WGDA).

It's Spring in Moscow, But Briefly

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
MOSCOW (AP) — Vegetable plants are coming up in the window boxes of apartment buildings that house most of Moscow's 6.4 million residents.

Flowers are growing gaily in the many parks that dot Moscow. In the gardens under Kremlin walls and inside the Kremlin, tulips have been blooming. Yellow wildflowers mingle with the grass.

It is a lush growth, this sudden burst on foliage in the brief northern summer. Trees transparent most of the year turn overnight into dense canopies of green.

The city devotes much effort to keeping streets and walks clear of snow during the long winter. Men and, predominantly, women are out shoveling.

Some of them, including women, dig ditches in the summer. Few are deployed with lawn mowers.

If the city does not cut the grass, no one does. Living in apartment houses is not conducive to taking pride in a well-kept yard.

That is one of the problems of the Soviet Union. Collective ownership leads to a lack of personal interest. The country's cousins of Moscow residents

White sugar is a highly refined product. Brown and yellow sugars, which are produced by evaporation, are also used in cooking when there is no objection to color, and some of them have delicious flavors, the best known being Demerara or coffee sugar, and dark brown Barbadoes sugar.

produce an estimated half of the national agricultural value on the 3.3 per cent of farmed land that is private kitchen plots. All the collective and state farms supply only half.

Food supplies for the capital are adequate, even if the private market has to be searched for things unavailable in state stores. As with so many things, waiting in line is a frequent experience in buying food.

Many get to work by subway, too many. The subway system is a showpiece for tourists and state visitors. They are taken during the slack hours to see the magnificent murals and mosaics deep underground.

During the rush hours people are packed so tightly into the inadequate entrances and exits they ignore the murals and mosaics.

The city has growth rings, like a tree. Apartment houses in the center are solidly built of stone or brick farther out are brick buildings that look, both inside and out, at least twice as old as they are. The newest growth ring, marching across the fields and into the birch forests, is composed of prefabricated cated apartment buildings.

A tremendous desire for more housing remains, however, since the last decade's construction represents most of the additional housing since Moscow's population was 4.14 million in 1939.

Feminine fashions in cool fabrics take us around the clock on a summer day. McMullen's new approach to the shirt-dress is shown (left) in a silky broadcloth, trimmed with rows of eyelet ruffles. A comfortable day on the green is assured in the striped broadcloth golfing dress and sun-shielding hat (center) designed by David Crystal. Skirt has

Here Are 2 Top Family Pictures

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's a pleasure to report two attractions which the family can attend without boring the adults:

humanitarian Will Rogers, we invite you to come live in one of our caves on Short Mountain. The Kerr Dam and lake will be your front yard."

The card was signed: "The Spiro, Okla., Bulldogs."

"The Unsinkable Molly Brown" and "The World of Henry Orient."

"Molly" is the second of Meredith Willson's sunshiny musicals to be filmed and the first to be improved in the movie version.

"Music Man" somehow lost its small-town flavor as a film. But "Molly," with its rhapsodies to frontier life, was a natural for movies, and the MGM treatment is big—wide, sun-splashed landscapes; open-throated singing and uninhibited dancing; acting without tulle touches.

"Molly" is a tour de force for a musical actress, and there was considerable doubt in Hollywood, including Willson's, that Debbie Reynolds was up to it. She was and is. She impels the movie along by sheer talent and energy.

Harve Presnell has both the voice and size for the stalwart Johnny Brown and seems a good bet for stardom.

"The World of Henry Orient" is mis-titled, leading the movie shopper to believe it might be another Peter Sellers adventure-comedy. It concerns the Manhattan adventures of a pair of over-privileged, underloved teen-age girls.

One is a saucer-eyed, pig-tailed daughter of a broken marriage, injured to loneliness. The other is virtually abandoned by her traveling parents, a Beatie-haired girl who races over the cityscape in a mothy fur coat. They meet and form an alliance to idolize and haunt a sleek-haired pianist — Sellers. Their attention plays havoc with his furtive affair with a married woman.

The prospect of watching a full-length film about two precocious 14-year-olds sounds forbidding, but director George Roy Hill alternates belly-laughs with tenderness in deft style.

Sellers is capital, as always. But the gems of the "Orient" are Tippy Walker and Merrie Spaeth, two natural actresses who will give every parent of teen-age girls twinges of red-nation.

Color Does Job on TV for Flag

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Just about everybody loves a parade with its stirring music, bright uniforms and the sight of Old Glory snapping in the breeze.

Tuesday night only a comparative handful of television viewers, those with access to color sets, could fully savor the spining sights in NBC's affectionate salute to the flag, a program called "The Red White and Blue."

Most of those who saw the program found a sober, well-intentioned hour full of lofty sentiments and imaginative camera work, but all in white, black and gray. It was the color — brilliant reds and blues and greens — that turned the program into memorable experience.

The program concentrated on a few patriotic events. One was an all-out Independence Day celebration held annually in Faith, N.C. population 493, which attracts 30,000 visitors.

Another was a loving Memorial Day observance in the burial ground of Noank, a small Connecticut town whose children know the names and deeds of Noank men who gave their lives in many wars. There was a memoir of Ellis Island as the camera's eye wandered over the deserted crumbling buildings occupied only by the ghosts of other days.

Here and there the program tossed out a question about an America "so flag-shy that Barbara Fritchie would be put down as a neighborhood eccentric."

Narrator Walter Brennan pointed out that only 20 per cent of all Americans even own a flag. But except for suggesting that flag-waving went out of fashion because it was done by "some mighty strange people," including Communists, American Nazis and the Ku Klux Klan, the program failed to diagnose the cause of the nation's apparent apathy about its flag.

"CBS Reports" tonight will be treating the subject of the constitutional guarantee of a citizen's right to keep and bear arms by examining two case histories of murder weapons. Because they are both still in

Nevadan Heads the Governors

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The national Governors Conference today elected Democratic Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada as its new chairman. There were indications it will meet next year in Minneapolis, Minn.

The 45-year-old Sawyer succeeds Republican Gov. John Anderson Jr. of Kansas as head of the organization. The conference annually rotates its chairmanship between Republicans and Democrats.

Tax Cut to Help Sales, Is Belief

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The most tantalizing whodunit of the season is who is going to get the biggest boost out of the federal income tax cut.

The Commerce Department has asked manufacturers about their sales prospects and reports them feeling that they for one will benefit in the form of rising sales.

Their predictions are notably more expansive than just three months ago. Part of this is because they feel the tax cut is going to help their salesmen in dealings with optimistic customers. Also sales already have risen faster than they had expected and they feel that the confidence born from the tax cut is a major factor there, too.

The survey of 1,200 large manufacturers shows them expecting sales to advance right through September at least, at a pace of 2 per cent or better, breaking records along the way.

The manufacturers have to share with a number of others this feeling that the tax cut is just the thing to help them a lot in coming months. Insurance salesmen are urging old customers to expand their coverage and tackling new prospects who have moved up a notch financially.

Investment houses and stock brokers are eyeing the windfall as money that could be chan-the California courts, the program will not be seen either in Los Angeles or San Diego.

FAVORITE FLAVOR FOR MEN: CHOCOLATE!

Do you have a party coming up? You can be sure you will please the men (and if they are anything like us, the women, too!) if you make the dessert a beautiful chocolate cake. This one is especially luscious, and especially easy. Use a chocolate chip cake mix for the layers, then make this smooth, fluffy chocolate filling and frosting. There's a minimum of time spent in the kitchen when you use a cake mix and an uncooked frosting... and who wouldn't like that!

Double Chocolate Layer Cake

- 1 package Swans Down Chocolate Chip Cake Mix
- 1 square unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
- 2/3 cup vegetable shortening
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/3 cup evaporated milk, undiluted
- 1 tablespoon water
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla or 2 teaspoons almond extract

Prepare the cake mix according to package directions. Bake in 2 nine-inch layers.

Combine remaining ingredients in a small mixing bowl. Beat at high speed of electric beater, or with rotary beater, about 10 minutes, until very fluffy. Makes about 2 2/3 cups filling. Spread between layers and on top and sides of cake.

People in the News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LONDON (AP)—Ringo Starr, the man who lays down the beat for the Beatles, is "definitely better" and will leave University College Hospital before the weekend, a hospital spokesman said today.

Ringo has been in the hospital since June 3 for treatment of tonsillitis.

NEW YORK (AP) — Mary Martin is a grandmother.

A son, Timothy, was born Tuesday in New York's Lenox Hill Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Weir. She's the former Heller Halliday, daughter of actress Martin and her husband, Richard Halliday, New York theater producer.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Horace D. Taft, son of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, Republican stalwart from Ohio, has been promoted to full professor at Yale University.

The appointment of Taft, a physicist, was announced Tuesday.

BELGRADE (AP) — President Tito of Yugoslavia says he and Soviet Premier Khrushchev "found with satisfaction that our attitudes were identical as regard mutual relations and international problems."

Tito made the comment Tuesday upon his arrival home from Leningrad, where he and Khrushchev had a four-hour neled into securities.

Travel agents and recreation managers are confident that families will put any savings into more fun or longer trips, or more expensive facilities.

Savings institutions, however, are sure that they'll get a good deal of the increased take home pay, at least in the early months.

The Commerce Department reports that its earlier survey had shown manufacturers expecting factory sales to go up $900 million in the first three months of this year. In fact, they went up $2.9 billion to a record $109.1 billion for the period.

'Antisocial' Cave-Living Girl Says

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A professed Pennsylvania cave dweller and a Georgia Tech nature lover have responded to the plight of a Texas girl evicted from her lakeside cave.

And what appears to be an entire high school football team has offered the shapely young brunette her choice of mountain caves in Oklahoma.

The celebrity of sorts is Lyn Anderson, 19, a tall, tanned Fort Worth girl who prefers animals to people and caves to houses.

She spent nearly three weeks with her dogs and a cat in a cave overlooking scenic Lake Worth before officials evicted her last week.

"I've never cared for people as a whole," she explained. "I like individuals. Most just call me antisocial."

A man who claimed to be a justice of the peace offered his sympathy and sent a picture of the Pennsylvania countryside. Inked in at a point along the Susquehanna River was a big X.

"X marks my cave," said the accompanying letter.

A Georgia Tech student, addressing his letter to Lyn at "cave near lake," said he realized "how difficult it is to find a secluded place away from people where one can contemplate one's fate."

One postcard, delivered to the Fort Worth Police Department, read:

"In keeping with the life of conference."

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, was 43 years old today.

ANDOVER, N.J. (AP)—Quote of the day: Mrs. Ida B. Folkner, 82 and a driver for 48 years, voluntarily gave up her license, explaining: "I never had an accident and I don't want to start now. There's no use in pressing my luck."

Growing suburban pastime—the kaffeeklatsch—has its drawbacks. Rich pastries or cakes contribute calories that threaten the waistline while housewives enrich their day with talk. Hint for the next coffee meeting: serve fruit instead of high caloric pastries and cut down on sugar in the coffee.

Montana's Flood Loss Is Fantastic

By BURL OSBORNE

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—Montana's floodwaters receded today leaving behind a vast trail of death and destruction.

At least 30 persons were dead, 34 missing and thousands homeless as the massive flood crest moved down the Missouri River over lowland areas past Great Falls, the state's largest city.

As deadly floodwaters inched downward, weather observers expressed concern about conditions on both sides of the tions on the Missouri 200 miles upstream from Great Falls.

Normally shallow mountain streams still were running like rivers today on both sides of the Continental Divide, pouring thousands of cubic feet a second into flood control reservoirs.

There was no immediate danger to communities downstream from Great Falls although officials evacuated Loma, a community of 200 at the junction of the Teton River and the Missouri.

Pounding waters washed out a bridge at Loma, leaving only one main highway open into Great Falls. Two thousand were homeless in Great Falls.

School Supt. Bruce Milne said there were two known dead in the Valier area. Both were youngsters who presumably drowned in a flash flood that rushed down Birch Creek after a torrent of water broke in earthen irrigation dam.

Milne said 31 persons were missing in the Valier area. In nearby Conrad, the coroner listed seven more missing.

Most of the dead were north of Valier on the Blackfeet Indian Reservation. A Civil Defense official, Dick Kullberg of Cutbank, said he counted 26 bodies. Other dead included two motorists whose vehicles plunged into roaring streams.

Damage in the floods was in the millions of dollars and Gov. Tim M. Babcock, who said it would be at least $10 million, appointed disaster assessment teams to make precise estimates.

Babcock said he did not take into account damage to Montana's $100-million summer tourist industry and one of its chief attractions — flood-battered Glacier National Park.

The National Park Service said glacier park would be closed temporarily. Damage to one hotel in the park was estimated at $300,000 to $400,000 but damage to other facilities had not been listed.

Air Force helicopters plucked a ranch family of seven from its rooftop near Vaughn.

"We knew the water was coming in from the Sun River but didn't believe it could sweep over the land," rancher Terry Jackson told rescuers. "We lost 400 head of cattle, over 2,000 turkeys, 100 pigs and a number of sheep."

17 More Held at Tuscaloosa

By REX THOMAS

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Police held 17 more jeering Negroes in jail today while watching for possible signs of new demonstrations in the wake of Tuesday's bloody street battle.

Th Negroes were taken into custody after a softball game at a school playground late Tuesday night. Negro teen-agers had been shouting taunts and curses at officers who patrolled the city.

"DEAR ABBY"

IS HE SERIOUS?

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: What would you do if your husband came home and told you who he would marry if you were out of the way? That's all he talks about lately. He makes me feel like I should do him a favor and just lay down and die. I am sure that is what he is hoping for because we don't believe in divorce. I don't know the lady he would like me out of the way for, but I have asked him once how he knew she would have him and he didn't answer me. I told him I had as much right as anyone, but he is sure making my life miserable. What should I do?

Tired: Dear Tired: Either your husband is off his rocker or he has a peculiar sense of humor. If he's "kidding," tell him he's not funny. And if he is serious, make a serious report to his doctor. He could be sick.

Dear Abby: You said the lady should precede the man when walking up the stairs in case she trips so he can catch her. I was taught in my youth that the gentleman should go up the stairs ahead of the lady so that she may not feel self-conscious. If he is behind her, she may get the idea that he is ogling her "derriere." And she would probably be correct. So in my opinion, the gentleman should precede the lady.

F.F. IN DAYTON: Dear F.F.: A gentleman doesn't ogle anything. He follows the lady up the stairs and keeps his eyes on her heel. If he's no gentleman, the lady should keep her eyes on HIM—the heel.

Dear Abby: Since when is it a sin to check on what your kids are doing? If people were more concerned about what their offspring are up to there would be a lot less unwed mothers. When I was a girl I wasn't turned loose with every Tom, Dick, and Charlie. My mother died when I was 14 and my brothers went along to chaperone me. Don't think it spoiled my fun because it didn't. I never had to chase a fellow to get him, either. When my girls came along I checked to see what they were doing. I didn't read any diary for they never kept one, but if they had, I would likely have read it. And I wouldn't have felt I did wrong. I believe in having trust in your children after you find out you can trust them. Girls today ask for what they get. They can't say, "I didn't know." They know more at nine than I did when I got married. I don't suppose you'll print this, but it's time mothers woke up. When your daughter says, "Mother, John and I done wrong and I am expecting a baby," it's too late to go read her diary.

Greece and Turkey to Get Warning

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball set out today on an emergency mission to warn Greece and Turkey of the Johnson administration's concern about the Cyprus crisis.

Informed sources said Ball carried word that the United States is ready to take sharp measures — their nature unspecified — to prevent the conflict from degenerating into a Greek-Turkish war or otherwise disrupting the eastern flank of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Before boarding a plane here, Ball told newsmen "it is utterly impossible for war to break out between the two North Atlantic treaty partners because of the serious consequences this would have for the whole free world."

Ball, who has spent two days at the closing phase of the U.N. trade and development conference, canceled a scheduled trip to London to undertake his mission in Athens and Ankara.

Ball changed his plans on direct orders from President Johnson.

He said he is meeting Greek Premier George Papandreu in Athens tonight and will leave for Ankara later in the night for talks with Turkish leaders. He is due back in Washington late Thursday to report to Johnson.

He said his trip was not intended as a mediation effort because "this problem can only be solved by the parties directly involved."

"Any solution will require a great deal of realism and generosity on all sides," he added. Earlier today, he scrapped a planned major speech to the development conference, telling the delegates of 122 nations the measure of agreement was insufficient to warrant a review of their accomplishments.

'Emperor Jones' Revival

New York (AP)—A revival of "The Emperor Jones," opera by Louis Gruenberg based upon Eugene O'Neill's famous play, is being planned by Milton Rosenstock, one of Broadway's leading theater orchestra conductors.

Rosenstock, who has secured over-all rights to the property, is also discussing possible TV and film productions. Gruenberg, now 79, wrote the work in 1933 and it was presented at the Metropolitan Opera with to prevent further violence.

But there was no physical skirmish like the earlier one which sent more than 30 persons to a hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises and tear gas irritation.

Negro leaders, some of them still in jail as the result of the clash with police, gave no indication of their future course.

The Rev. James Bevel, an associate of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. in the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was sent to Tuscaloosa and reportedly was in conference with some of the other leaders.

City authorities assumed that some effort might be made to keep the anti-segregation demonstrations alive despite the ban that touched off the outbreak of club swinging and rock and bottle throwing.

Ninety-six Negroes went to jail in the aftermath of the Tuesday rioting, and most of them still were in custody today.
